I. Idea and conception of ECTS

The ECTS was developed within the framework of a pilot project of the European Union from 1989 to 1997. The experiment was part of the EU's ERASMUS programme. The primary aim of ECTS is to facilitate the transfer of academic performance.

II. Instruments and basic principles of ECTS

The basic principles of ECTS are described in the European-wide binding document "ECTS key features" (https://education.ec.europa.eu/sites/default/files/document-library-docs/ects-users-guide\_de.pdf).

ECTS credits are numerical values assigned to each course to describe a student's workload required for the course. Credits reflect the quantitative proportion of work that must be spent on each course in relation to the required course load for the successful completion of an entire academic year at the higher education institution. Under ECTS, 60 credits are set as the basis for a full academic year. The distribution of credits should correspond to the ideal typical workload for normal studies, with 1 credit corresponding to a workload of 25 to 30 hours. The courses result in between 1 and 2 credits per contact teaching hours per week (WCH), taking into account in-person attendance and self-study.

The main components of ECTS are:

- The ECTS information package (course catalogue), in which students and higher education teachers can find everything about the higher education institutions, faculties/departments, the organisation and structure of the degree programmes and the courses.
- The ECTS learning agreement, which specifies the study programme to be completed abroad and the credits to be awarded upon its successful completion. The home university guarantees that the credit obtained abroad will be counted academically and the host university guarantees that the planned courses will be offered subject to the syllabus.
- The ECTS transcript of records contains the student's academic achievements in an easily understandable and comprehensive form.
- The evaluation of the student's achievement is documented by the locally awarded grade. This grade is supplemented by an ECTS grade. Successful students are awarded the following grades:
  - A the best 10 %
  - B the next 25 %
  - C the next 30 %
  - D the next 25 %
  - E the next 10 %
- A further distinction is made between the grades FX and F, which are awarded to unsuccessful students. FX means: "Failed - improvements are required before acceptance for credit" and F means: "Failed - significant improvements are required".

III. Courses and Credits

1. Starting times of courses

Courses from the Faculty of Law usually do not start at the exact time indicated, but one "academic quarter hour" (c.t. = "cum tempore") later. Occasionally, however, courses begin "sine tempore" (s.t.), that is, on the hour, which is announced accordingly.

2. Preliminary remarks on the credit table

- a) The ECTS learning agreement and the ECTS transcript of records are prepared by the International Office (Institutional Coordinator) and confirmed by the respective Departmental Coordinator of the faculty. Other ECTS certificates are not issued.
- b) Most students participating in international programmes with the University of Passau must achieve 60 credits per year or 30 credits per semester in order to be able to prove their studies were adequate to the scholarship providers.
- c) International students can acquire a "Certificate of Basic Knowledge of German Law" together with 60 credits as a lump sum. Here, students take a basic course module, an elective module and a module on the methodology of German law. The combination of compulsory and elective courses ensures maximum gain from the study abroad programme. Please note that only courses held in German legal language can be chosen.
- d) In addition, international students can take part in events organised by the Language Centre (www.sprachenzentrum.uni-passau.de), e.g. "Deutsch als Fremdsprache für Juristen" (German as a Foreign Language for Law Students), and acquire credits there.
- e) The distribution of credits is shown in the attached table.
  - International students can acquire a "Certificate of Basic Knowledge of German Law" together with 60 credits as a lump sum.
  - With the acquisition of the "Magister Legum (LL.M.)", the credits for all courses belonging to this degree programme are acquired.<sup>1</sup> Within the framework of the degree programme "Undergraduate Law Programme", credits for all courses of a study section (preliminary examination, focus area) are acquired by passing the course. Accordingly, credits for all courses belonging to the advanced exercises are acquired with the acquisition of the respective certificate of achievement and credits for all courses on compulsory subjects (§ 18 Para. 2 JAPO) of the 7th and 8th semesters are acquired with passing the First State Examination in Law<sup>1</sup>
  - If no credits can be earned according to the above, the following applies: For individual courses in which examinations are offered, credits are awarded if an examination is passed. Credits for individual exercises (formerly accompanying colloquia/working groups) are acquired through participation and a – if offered – passed examination of the associated lecture. For term papers, seminars and master's/magister's theses, credits are awarded upon it receiving a passing grade.
  - Due to the increased language learning requirements for international students, a correspondingly higher number of ECTS credits is usually awarded for lectures - in the case of a passed oral or written examination (Klausur) – and 10 ECTS credits accordingly for basic courses with an increased number of hours. Seminars that are successfully completed with a seminar paper can be awarded 10 ECTS credits.
- f) The evaluations of the examinations is based on § 19 of the study and examination regulations for the Master's degree programme "Deutsches Recht für ausländische Studierende". The following applies uniformly to the conversion of German grades (§§ 1 and 2 Para. 2 of the
